Brief history of Abraham's Descendants

Noah's son, Shem, and his wife had children. One of Shem's descendants was named Abram. Abram obeyed Yahweh. So Yahweh told Abram to go to another land with his wife, Sarai. Yahweh changed their names to "Abraham" and "Sarah."

Abraham was very wealthy and had much livestock. He lived in the hills, not a big crowded city. Yahweh told Abraham that He would bless him and his children because of his obedience. Indeed, Abraham became the father of many nations. But he and Sarah did not have any children until they were very old. Yahweh made it possible by giving them an heir whom they named Isaac, which means "laughter" because Sarah laughed when she was told she would be a mother in her old age.

Isaac grew up, married, and had a son named Jacob. Jacob grew up and married, and had twelve sons. Jacob's name was changed to Israel. One of Israel's son's whom he loved very much was named Joseph. Israel gave Joseph a "coat of many colors."

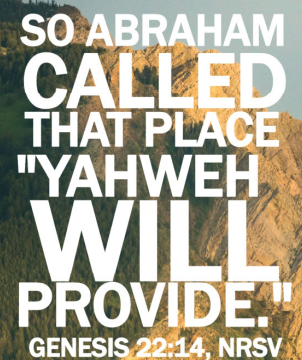

Genesis 18:10, ESV

This made Israel's other sons' very jealous. Joseph also began having dreams, one of which his family would be bowing down to him. This dream did become a reality much later. When Joseph's brothers' sold him into slavery, he ended up in Egypt and became a powerful ruler. During a time of terrible famine, Israel and his family traveled to Egypt, not knowing that Joseph was a ruler there. And this is how the Israelites became slaves in Egypt, leading to Moses rising up and bringing them out by Yahweh's powerful Hand.
